

August 2004

AUSPACK TO PACK A PUNCH
AT THE SYDNEY SHOWGROUND IN 2005

Winning a big slice of exhibition business is always a great thrill, even more so recently when the Sydney Showground secured Australia's leading bi-annual exhibition of machinery, materials and technology for the processing, packaging and handling industries, AUSPACK 2005.

AUSPACK 2005 will be the biggest and most important event ever held for these Australian industries with a large proportion of visitors traveling from interstate and overseas. The Sydney Showground's proximity to the industry sector of Greater Western Sydney, its size and venue capacity as well as competitive pricing tipped the scales in favour of the venue.

AUSPACK 2005 is scheduled for October 11 –14 2005 and will use 19,170 sqm of the venue's available 22,00sqm including Halls 2,3,4, Badgery Pavilion and the Howie Complex.